

PAUL GARDNER

Northeast Regional Manager

Paul Gardner is proudly the “voice” of Flora Springs Winery in the Northeast and his passion for quality wine is evident when he shares our story. Sharing wines and the Komes and Garvey family story with others is what Paul truly enjoys.

Paul works with customers and distributor partners to create strong and long lasting relationships and uses his ability to motivate and hard work, to make it happen. Paul is creative, always thinking outside the box to problem solve.

He has twelve years experience in the restaurant and retail side of the business, ten years on the distribution side, and seven years working for other notable wineries. Having a goal in mind to work for a family owned winery, he has reached his goal working for Flora Springs.

Paul is from Connecticut and earned his degree in Business and Marketing at NorthEastern University.

He currently lives in Manhattan, NY with his wife, Andrea, their son Noah, and English Bulldog Cleopatra. Paul enjoys all sports. While Paul believes he can still do it all, he realizes teaching and playing with his son saves him trips to the hospital.
